BONUS: Recipes Included!
The long anticipated, epic cruise adventure is finally here! Two worlds collide when Gloria and the Garden Girls meet up with Gloria's cousin, Assistant Cruise Director, Millie Sanders and her crew aboard the passenger cruise ship, "Siren of the Seas." Almost immediately, suspicions are raised when a group of mysterious passengers board and then head straight to the bridge for a private meeting with the captain. Not long after, Andy Walker, Millie's boss, tells her the ship will have some "temporary" staff boarding for this cruise, something that has never happened before. Later, after the ship sets sail, Millie stops by to greet the captain and Scout, and sparks fly when the captain invites Millie to dine with him in his apartment the following evening. When Millie arrives for her dinner date the next night, she discovers the bridge is locked and no one will answer the door. At first, Millie is heartbroken, believing she has been stood up, but soon discovers that something sinister is going on inside the bridge after communications onboard are cut off and the ship stops moving. Will Millie and her friends, with some help from Gloria and the Garden Girls, be able to figure out who has taken control of their cruise or will they all become dead in the water?

Customer Reviews

I love reading these cruise line books. I have been on lots of cruises myself, and when I read these books, I feel like I am back in a cruise. I love the characters and the interactions. These books are always an easy and pleasurable read. I recommend this book to anyone who enjoys a cozy mystery and fun characters.

The author uses her amazing writing skills to have the characters, from her two can't-put-it-down series, The Cruise Ship Mysteries and The Garden Girls, put their heads together and solve their most dangerous case yet! I love these books because the characters are mostly older but lively, lovable ladies who are fun to be around and know how to have a good time getting in trouble while sleuthing. In this adventure there are terrorists who threaten the ship's safety and its captain and crew. It's going to take all of Millie's and her cousin Gloria's skills to figure out this high seas mystery (with a little help from their friends, of course!). Hope Callaghan's writing is a blessing to read. It's like going on an adventure with your girl friends--you look out for each other while sharing both good and bad experiences. Great job on combining the series. I can hardly wait for the next cruise crime to happen... Michelle Gloria and the gang finally go on their long awaited cruise...on the ship cousin Millie crews on. When strange things start to happen, they realize, that they have been hijacked. All the ladies put their heads together and use their skills to help with the capture.

Gloria, her friends, and her cousin from Garden Girls and Millie and friends from Cruise Ship mysteries help save the ship from high jackers. Hope Callaghan artistically blends both groups of characters in this fast moving cozy mystery. Life, activities, and the food on a cruise ship is described. Some unexpected twists in this fun cozy mystery with senior sleuths.

This exciting vacation for the Garden Girls takes place on the cruise ship where Gloria's cousin, Millie, works as asst. Cruise director. Millie has been solving crimes on the ship in t Shepard few months. Gloria and the girls help solve a big takeover by some very bad men and a mole who has been working on the ship. The crew and girls are able to save the ship.

I enjoyed reading about the Garden girls meeting Gloria's cousin Millie. Interesting situation they were all in. But must admit I enjoy The Garden Girls series a lot more. This is just my personal option, though I'm sure many others will find that this book is their style. As Hope Callahan always writes enjoyable books. '

These ladies know how to get into trouble but know how to ask for help from a higher being. I love that prayer is brought into their daily routine without it being a center stage event. It is quietly, peacefully and respectfully maintained with dignity. Their goal is to be helpful and protective. |They don't always go about it with law enforcements blessings. But in the end they are always helpful. This is a group I would like to know and call my friends.

I like reading the books in this series because you never know what Millie is going to get into which is on the cruise ship. Now we have gloria and her friends on the cruise you know it's going to be an adventure. Hope is an amazing writer and you will never be disappointed when you pick one of her books.
