Biblical Theology And Marian Studies: Catholic For A Reason II

Synopsis

In a beautiful and more extended look at typology in Scripture, Scott Hahn shows us the necessity of theology that is based on Scriptureâs biblical theologyâs and how Mariology gives us this biblical theology by unifying exegesis, dogma, and the liturgy. Hahn systematically examines three specific types from the Old Testament, explains how they are fulfilled in the New Testament, and relates them to dogmas that are taught by the Church. He concludes that understanding the Churchâs teachings on Mary requires us to embrace the typological reading of Scripture used by the Apostles, which is so evident in the liturgy today.

Customer Reviews

Dr. Hahn has been a favorite author and speaker and theologian of mine for a long time. His work is always proved by its own presentation, adding to that the background of his upbringing which is so anti to the subject; that too gathers itself among that proof. It is a very thorough presentation of Biblical references that can be seen through the eyes of typology, a process that Jesus himself introduced, that St. Paul gave a name to. I enjoyed it very much and recommend it to anyone who happens by it, especially to those who are of an anti disposition to the adoration of Mary.

Excellent reference booklet for a speech my husband had to give on the subject.
