Renewal Theology: Systematic Theology From A Charismatic Perspective (Three Volumes In One)

Synopsis

Renewal Theology deals with the full range of Christian truth from within the charismatic tradition. Previously published as three separate volumes, Renewal Theology represents the first exhaustive, balanced articulation of charismatic theology. Renewal Theology discusses: Book One--God, the World, and Redemption - Book Two--Salvation, the Holy Spirit, and Christian Living - Book Three--The Church, the Kingdom, and Last Things. As theology, this work is an intellectual achievement. But it is much more than that. The author urges the church to undertake its task of theology in the proper spirit: - an attitude of prayer - a deepening sense of reverence - an ever-increasing purity of heart - a spirit of growing love - a theological approach rooted in the glory of God. Done in such a spirit, theology becomes a faithful and powerful witness to the living God.

J. Rodman Williams (1918-2008) was a charismatic theologian and Professor of Renewal Theology at Regent University (as well as the founding president of the now-defunct Melodyland School of Theology). This isn't the "only" systematic theology written from a Pentecostal perspective (see Systematic Theology: A Pentecostal Perspective, and Wayne Grudem's sympathetic Systematic Theology: An Introduction to Biblical Doctrine), but is certainly the most thorough. This book was written from 1988-92, and has now been published as a single volume. Williams eschews the traditional categories such as "Soteriology," "Ecclesiology," "Eschatology," and so on, simply dividing the book into three parts (1- "God, the World, & Redemption"; "Salvation, the Holy Spirit, and Christian Living"; and "The Church, the Kingdom, and Last Things"), of fifteen chapters apiece. Obviously, one cannot adequately summarize a 1,400-page work within the confines of an review; but here are some characteristic quotations (I have the original 3-volume edition, so my page numbers correlate to that): "It is only through the continuing direction of the Holy Spirit that genuine theological work can be done." (V1, pg. 21) "There can be no basic difference between the truth the Christian community knows through the indwelling of the Holy Spirit and what is set forth in Scripture...."
